

Martha Stewart Weddings

Winter 2014 (from 15 page article)

Photographs by John Dolan

Text by Eleni Gage

Before the party, the bride changed into a second Oscar de la Renta gown, embellished with crystals and pearls. "I was deeply in love with both dresses," says Kate. So much so that she had them preserved by Margaret's in Los Angeles, along with Michael's suit, which is stored with his vows in the pocket. Margaret's made sure the vows were duplicated onto archival quality paper before preserving them with the suit.

Margaret's was also privileged to do some major repairs and cleaning of the vintage Chloé gown Kate wore at the wedding-eve hoe-down.

The Hoe-Down

The Wedding

The Reception